Here are the office locations that Louise has assigned:

Calger 06105 Presto 06103 Shively 06102

T Jae, it was decided today that legal will move over here this weekend. Can you please arrange for Kevin's things to be boxed up so legal can move in downstairs over the weekend.

Ina, if there are any of John Arnold's personal effects left on 5 can you please have them boxed up?

If we can hold off until next week to set the new offices up I'm sure that Darren and David would be very grateful!

Thanks for your help! Tammy -----Original Message----- From: Rode, Tina Sent: Monday, February 04, 2002 4:33 PM To: Shepperd, Tammy R. Subject: Office for Chris Calger

Tammy,

Chris indicated on Friday that he has an office on this floor. Please let me know the location so I can have his office set up at a later date.

Thanking you in advance.

The Energy Information Administration (EIA) has released its latest quarterly CD-ROM, Energy InfoDisc, which is now a two (2) disc product. Energy InfoDisc is a comprehensive, high-tech product that is easy to use, yet robust enough for serious number crunching and analysis. It provides fast, easy, and inexpensive access to:

- Historical time series for production, consumption, prices, and resource availability of conventional and alternate energy resources
- Analyses of economic and technical topics
- Projections of future energy supply, demand, and prices database applications that allow users to generate their own individualized energy databases

On disc 1, users may view and search more than 400 data, analysis, and forecasting reports and directories published by EIA over the previous 12 months, including the Monthly Energy Review, Short-Term Energy Outlook, International Energy Outlook, and Country Analysis Briefs. On disc 2, users may access EIA's extensive energy database applications to generate their own individualized energy databases. Among the EIA database applications contained on the Energy InfoDisc:

Annual Energy Outlook 2000 Electricity Databases Oil and Gas Information System Short-Term Energy Model State Energy Data U.S. Emissions of Greenhouse Gases World Energy Database

Each new quarterly issue highlights new products and any changes or enhancements to the CD. Energy InfoDisc contains information on special industry topics such as the restructuring of the electric power industry and greenhouse gases and global warming. Publications are displayed in Portable Document Format (PDF). Most of the energy database applications are written in Microsoft Access. The Microsoft Access run-time engines required for these applications are included.

Energy InfoDisc is issued quarterly. STAT-USA, a U.S. Department of Commerce information service for business, economic, and trade professionals, distributes EnergyInfoDisc, through a cooperative agreement with EIA. Orders can be placed over STAT-USA's toll free order number: 1-800-STAT-USA or by calling (202) 482-1986. Energy InfoDisc can also be purchased through the National Technical Information Service (NTIS). NTIS is the federal government's central source for the sale of scientific, technical, engineering, and related business information produced by or for the U.S. government and complementary material from international sources. To place an order by phone, call 1-800-553-NTIS (6847) or (703) 605-6000. To find out more about Energy InfoDisc and its contents, contact:

Advanced Technology and 10 Free Online Equity Trades+ Dear Hunter Shively, As an active trader, you know that having the tools you need to trade is essential in today's market. So, when you open an account with Datek , you'll have access to real-time market information, the ability to customize your trading screen and direct access trading. See how you can take advantage of what Datek has to offer: ? One Low Commission - just $9.99: Datek is the only online broker that gives you one simple low commission for both market and limit orders for any online equity trade up to 5,000 shares. ? FREE Streamer 3.0 Quote Service. With Streamer Real-Time Quotes you have access to customized quotes and charts that show you the movements of any stock in real time. ? FREE Level II Quotes and Real-Time Charts. Our Streamer

Level II Quotes provide a complete picture of the real-time momentum of any Nasdaq stock, by showing you the top 15 bids and offers from all ECN's and Market Centers. ? New: Customize your own Trading Site. What do YOU want to see on screen? Datek offers three floating windows that let you enter direct access orders faster, store your orders for the right moment, and watch your account balance update in real time. ? FREE access to Datek DirectSM?. Control the routing of your Nasdaq orders with direct access - without paying higher commissions. And unlike other online brokers, Datek does not charge you for ECN fees. ? FREE Real-Time Screener??. Find stock opportunities that fit your investment strategy by matching criteria you input with real-time performance information. ? Fast Trade Execution*. If your marketable online equity order isn't executed within 60 seconds, Datek will waive the commission. If you act now, you can also capitalize on a limited-time offer for 10 free online equity trades+. Just open an account by depositing or transferring $500 or more before December 31, 2001. Please be sure to include the offer code AZZ when filling out your application. Take advantage of this limited time offer - and Datek's free tools for active traders - by opening an account today. Sincerely, Ed Nicoll Chairman and CEO Datek Online Holdings Corp. www.datek.com P.S. Do you have questions about opening a Datek account? Please contact Datek Customer Support at support@datek.com or call us at 1-800-U2-DATEK (1-800-823-2835) from 8 AM to midnight ET on weekdays, and from 9 AM to 7 PM ET on weekends. Our Privacy Policy | Legal & Disclosure Notice | Customer Agreement + Open and fund an account with a minimum initial deposit of $500 before 12/31/01 and get 10 commission-free online equity trades, up to 5,000 shares for each trade per account. Free trade credits will expire within one year of issue date if not used. Limit one new account offer per type of account. Offer cannot be combined with other offers. * Datek will not charge a commission ($9.99) for any marketable online order that is not executed within 60 seconds, measured from the time that "processing" began until the time the order is "executed". This applies to all orders using Datek's "Auto Routing" for any NYSE, AMEX, or NASD stock that are marketable after 9:45 A.M. ET, are marketable upon entry and remain marketable for 60 seconds. The market in the stock must not be locked, crossed or halted. We do not extend this commitment to short sales, OTC Bulletin Board Stocks, Option Trades, or any order that is "stopped" at a price improvement, or during Extended-Hours trading sessions.  Real-time quote privileges differ for professional users. Datek account holders must maintain a minimum account value of $500 to receive this free service.  Level II quotes on the Streamer brand real-time quotation service are available free for those who trade more than 20 times a month and maintain a minimum account balance of $500 with Datek. Nonprofessional users who trade 20 or fewer times per month can access Level II quotes for $9.99 per month, while professional users can have access for $50 per month. ? Datek DirectSM is a tool, as the name implies, that allows customers to direct their Nasdaq orders to a specific execution venue. The name should not be deemed to imply that a customer is dealing directly with the marketplace. All orders are processed through Datek Online Financial Services LLC, a registered broker/dealer. ?? NEW FEATURES from The Wall Street Journal

Dear Subscriber:

I hope you've had a chance to try out the new Wall Street Journal Online since we introduced it January 28. If you haven't done so, I encourage you to visit <http://online.wsj.com> and see what your fellow subscribers are talking about - from home-page personalization to improved links in articles to more intuitive navigation.

We've seen many of you taking advantage of the personalization features to have home-page access to your regularly used news categories and portfolio. Remember you can set up personalization by using Setup Center or directly from different pages of the site, using the "Add to Personalized Home Page" link on industry and topic pages. If you aren't seeing your portfolio on your home page, use the "Layout" option in the Setup Center and click "Show" on the buttons for Portfolio, then click Save Settings.

We know that with such a major step forward in design and functionality some people may have trouble finding their favorite content or features at first. We hope long-time subscribers will appreciate the new labels for sections, which many users - new and old - have indicated they find faster and more intuitive than the original navigation.

One feature that I hope you have found by now is the "In Today's Paper" page available from a link right below the main left-hand section navigation. At a glance, this page allows you to see the articles that appear on the print Journal's section pages, including Marketplace, Money & Investing and Weekend Journal on Fridays. We also provide links on this page to the past several days, and we're continuing to build up the archive of previous days. (You'll also find Page One articles listed on your home page directly below the What's News column.)

+ Opinion is where you'll find Wall Street Journal editorials, commentaries and op-ed columns. It's on the main section navigation. + Quotes & Research encompasses all of the in-depth company information you may have known as Briefing Books. Use the upper-right Quotes & Research form to get started. + Archive Search, available on the Advanced Search page linked from below the upper-right search form, provides access into the premium 20-year archive of Journal articles and more than 6,000 other sources formerly known as Publications Library. It's provided in conjunction with Factiva, a Dow Jones-Reuters company.

We made substantial changes to our systems to support the new Online Journal, and we've been working around the clock to ensure that you find every aspect of the site a more useful experience. For more tips on how to make the most of the new Online Journal, go to <http://public.wsj.com/tour>

As always, we appreciate knowing what you think. Write me at nbudde@wsj.com.

Sincerely,

Neil F. Budde Publisher, The Wall Street Journal Online nbudde@wsj.com

File	shively-h/deleted_items/166.

NEW FEATURES from The Wall Street Journal

Dear Subscriber:

If your New Year's resolution is to advance your career and boost the size of your paycheck, then look no further than CareerJournal, The Wall Street Journal's career site for executives, managers and professionals. We've added extensive compensation data, plus several other convenient features, as we continue in our quest to make CareerJournal the Web's most useful and focused site for professionals like you.

Our new features include:

--Improved Salary Data-- We've added a huge free database of compensation tables for thousands of job titles throughout the U.S., Canada and more than 200 countries around the globe. To access this new data, simply click on the Salary & Hiring link below, then click on your industry or function in the menu. The data are being provided by the Economic Research Institute (ERI), a top compensation and benefits research firm, and complements the hundreds of salary tables we've always featured on the site, as well as the in-depth articles we publish each week on hiring demand by function and industry. <http://www.careerjournal.com/salaries/index.html>

--Special Reports: Diversity and Academia-- Minority candidates, as well as those seeking careers in academia, face special challenges in the job market. In our reports, we offer specific guidance on unique recruitment issues. Our Diversity special report focuses on such issues as why hiring of minority candidates has stayed strong during the recession, and why a company's track record in promoting diverse employees is critical when attracting new hires. <http://www.careerjournal.com/specialreports/diversity/>

Our report on academic career issues includes articles on why corporate executives without academic experience are in demand among many learning institutions, and on the expanding role of professional fund-raisers among educational employers. <http://www.careerjournal.com/specialreports/academic/>

--Executive Education Center-- If you're considering an executive education program, our new center offers background information on hundreds of business programs offered globally. Program descriptions include quick summaries, in-depth outlines, locations, times, prices and registration information. The center only features business schools that have been ranked or recognized by major publications and/or professional organizations. <http://cj.ce.com/index.html>

--Global Who's News Database-- Our database of executive changes has exceeded more than 3,000 executive profiles. Updated every business day, the database can be searched by company, date and executive's name. <http://www.careerjournal.com/whosnews/index.html>

Please take a few minutes to familiarize yourself with these new CareerJournal features. And don't forget that if you're currently searching for a new position, our job database can be accessed at <http://www.careerjournal.com/partners/advsearch.html>

There's simply no better or more effective way to help you and your career kick off the new year than at <http://CareerJournal.com>

Sincerely, Tony Lee Editor in Chief/General Manager CareerJournal.com

I view the sharing of the fundies databases and associated web sites (gas and power) with the Estate as a serious commercial issue that we should not ignore. The estate can not only use the proprietary information as a competitor in the trading business, but they could potentially sell the data to multiple competitors.

I can't imagine that this data was agreed to be shared by UBS and the Estate. I am not planning on giving any of the data to the Estate. I feel very strongly about this issue and the rest of the commercial organization does as well. One of the keys to maintaining a competitive edge in this business is our huge headstart in this area.

Robert Ricks is a Lead Forecaster with the National Weather Service in New Orleans. He is interested in coming in to interview for the position. He indicated that next Tuesday or Wednesday would be the best dates for him. He is working midnight to 8am for the remainder of this week. He can be reached on his cell phone at any time...985-373-0608 or at home...985-875-0015. His work number is 985-649-0429.

He will be sending me a resume in the next few days.

On other candidates: Bill Read (MIC- NWS Houston) is considering whether to interview or not. I will remain in contact with him. Mark Walquist (Forecaster - Wilkens Weather) has declined to interview due to job security issues. John Lewis (Lead Forecaster - NWS Little Rock) has declined to interview due to "happy where I am and no money can change my mind." I am trying to get an update on the status of Steve Lyons, other Weather Channel employees, and Matt Rogers.

From: Carpino, Neil Sent: Monday, November 05, 2001 1:57 PM To: Shively, Hunter S. Subject: Analyst Rotation - Gas Fundamentals

Hi Hunter, I recently joined the A/A program as a Senior Analyst as of November 2001 on recommendations from Jim Fallon, Paul Racicot, and Nicole La and I would like to speak with you on any opportunities that you may have within the Gas Fundamentals group. I am currently working for Paul Racicot on the EBS trading desk as a metro capacity trader but I am interested in pursuing other opportunities within Enron. I am ultimately interested in joining the Gas trading track and believe the fundamentals group would be an excellent place to start. I've attached a copy of my resume and two recommendation letters one from Nicole La and one Joe Edwards, who heads up the bandwidth capacity trading desk, for you to review. If you have any questions please call me at x34212. Jim Fallon, Paul Racicot, Nicole La and Joe Edwards would also be happy to speak with you regarding my performance and potential at Enron.

Thank-you

Hunter,

I spoke with Mr. Ricks about his flight schedule and he wants to drive because his wife wants join him. I'll book him in the Doubletree Hotel for Monday. I told him we would probably start the schedule around 9:00 a.m. If you give me the names of those to interview him, I'll do the schedule. I told him we would reimburse him for mileage.

Liz

NEW WEATHER SWAPS ON THE INTERCONTINENTAL EXCHANGE

Sender	nyadmin@intcx.com
Recipients	[s..shively@enron.com]
File	shively-h/deleted_items/690.

[IMAGE] IntercontinentalExchange is pleased to announce that weather swaps trading will be included in its new version 8 release. These fixed-for-floating financial products will be cash settled on a five-day average temperature, Monday - Friday, for the current week and for the forward week. Temperatures used for the settlement of these products will be those reported by EarthSat, a widely recognized and independent source of weather data. Settlement temperatures provided by EarthSat will be available via the IntercontinentalExchange website. The hub locations for weather trades will be the primary airport weather stations at Chicago-O'Hare, Dallas-Fort Worth, New York-La Guardia, Philadelphia-International and Sacramento-Executive. The standard contract size for all locations will be $10,000 per degree Fahrenheit, with a tic increment of 0.1 degree Fahrenheit or $1,000. There are no payout limits on the contracts. The design and development of these new weather products was done under the guidance of Aquila Energy Marketing Corp., a recognized leader in weather product concepts. In addition, IntercontinentalExchange has worked with Aquila and other major weather market participants, including Reliant Energy, Mirant Americas, and El Paso Merchant Energy, to build consensus and support for these new products. To trade weather swaps you must have our new version 8 release installed on your system. An advisory with details about this new release is being sent to you by separate email. We encourage all of our users to take a serious look at the new weather products being offered by the IntercontinentalExchange. Please contact one of our following representatives to find out about the new weather products, or check back on our website product guide: Patricia Ricci : (646) 792-2624 : Patricia.Ricci@intcx.com Mike O'Neill : (646) 792-2626 : Michael.Oneill@intcx.com Chris D'Ambrosio : (646) 792-2625 : chris.dambrosio@intcx.com
